MemoryPower for Sales & Customer Service Expert Skills that Influence Sales, Performance & Profits

The secret weapon and core competency of all successful sales and customer service professionals is a powerful and accurate memory.

Whether it's names and faces, numbers, client details or conversations, every customer interaction is an opportunity to build trust and credibility and demonstrate your capability to deliver for your customer, your company and yourself.

Developed exclusively for the busy sales, customer service, back-office and front-line professional, this deep-dive into memory expertise for sales and customer service professionals by renowned memory expert Scott Bornstein will teach you the most important skill-set a person can have to improve professionalism, job performance, the customer experience, and most importantly, to close more sales.

Using Scott's MemoryPower metrics, best practices and simulations, and your sales systems and marketing content, discover how to have unfailing confidence in your memory power to eliminate the knowledge and performance gaps that hurt execution, collaboration and customer relationships.

Every point of customer contact is a memory test. Do you need better skills to pass it?

Here's a perfect opportunity to align teams and operations in an "outside the box" training that will have an immediate impact on sales and service. These tools will benefit everyone in the company, immediately, that day, to be more knowledgeable, professional, poised and effective.
